COUNCIL HOLDS AN UNIMPORTANT MEETING

The city council held its last regular meeting last evening, the new one coming in next Monday. However, an adjourned meeting will probably be held Thursday evening to wind up the affairs connected with the bond issue.

The meeting last night appeared to be without its usual assortment of rags for chewing purposes and the meeting promised to be short and uneventful one, but Ratliff rose to the occasion by moving to take up each bill reported by the finance committee and consider it separately. This was agreed to and although every bill was finally allowed each one received careful consideration. The meeting was lengthened somewhat by this procedure and held on until 11 o'clock before the weary guardian of the city's purse decided to give up the job and go home.

CONTRACTOR READY TO BEGIN WORK

Yesterday afternoon W. B. Jones, city clerk, received a telegram from D. T. Johnson, who secured the contract for laying the Byrd's Mill water mains, stating that he had made his bond and would be here immediately to begin work. This is gratifying news and indicates that unless something unforeseen occurs the dream of a bountiful water supply for Ada will speedily become a beautiful reality.

CHURCH OF CHRIST CONTINUES REVIVAL

Revival services continue all the week at the Church of Christ.

The sermon last night on "The Christian Soldier," was ably handled by Evangelist F. M. McGlasson. In this subject he showed it was a "good cause" a "perfect captain."

OUTLOOK IS FOR PEACE

BELIEVED THAT MEXICANS WILL SOON HARMONIZE THEIR DIFFERENCES.

Mexico City, April 24.—The pessimism with which the people of the capital have regarded the efforts to end the rebellion is beginning to yield before the encouraging news from the North. The announcement today that Dr. Vasquez Gomez, the revolutionary agent at Washington, will go to Juarez to take part in the preliminary negotiations for peace, is regarded as a favorable sign.

Consideration of the problems involved in the negotiations was taken up early today. It was only 8:30 o'clock this morning when Gen. Diaz, accompanied by Porfirio Diaz Jr. drove up to the National Palace from the President's residence in Cadma street. Members of the Cabinet were soon in attendance, and at 9 o'clock a cabinet council began, which, with frequent interruptions, lasted until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The interruptions were caused generally by President Diaz, who permitted cards of visitors to be sent into the council room and then stopped proceedings to receive those whom he particularly desired to honor.

Receives American Ambassador.

First of the men received by the President was Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, who, under instructions from the state department at Washington, came to thank Gen. Diaz for the release of Lawrence F. Converse and Edward H. Blatt from the jail at Juarez. The interview was most cordial and of some duration.

President in a Good Humor.

To all the visitors whom he received Gen. Diaz spoke in a loud voice. He answered in very much the same words all those who felt at liberty to question him on the peace negotiations. The president is pleased with everything, it would seem, except the proposition to conclude an armistice, which after the conclusion of the present five days truce, would give time for full peace negotiations by telegraph. He insists that a plenipotentiary of the revolutionists must come to the capital, show all credentials that will show his power to build them the necessary document here. If no other hitch takes place this demand is still important, as it will mean a delay of at least two days in coming to the important negotiations.

To one of his old comrades in arms of the war with the French, Gen. Diaz said, while, after asking permission to do so, the veteran embraced him.

"I look forward to the negotiations during the armistice without any anxiety whatsoever. I am taking it for granted that the other side of this fratricidal quarrel are approaching the questions which have been presented, and others which will inevitably arise in the course of the negotiations, in the same spirit as I am. If they do so all will be well. I am ready to make every personal sacrifice which any possible development of the situation may demand and if they will do the same all will be well. But in the national sense they will find me of adamant. I will not yield one iota of what the decorum, integrity, dignity and welfare of our country demands and is entitled to. If the other people make similar personal sacrifices of possible personal preferences, and are animated by the same patriotic sentiment as we are, the negotiations will run along very smooth."

Dr. Hartman was a passenger to Oklahoma this morning.

If you need something which would serve you just as well if "second hand" as if new, watch the "for sale ads!" 12-dtf

DETECTIVES FIND STORES OF DYNAMITE

Indianapolis, April 25.—Detective William J. Burns, who led in the arrest of Joan J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, here last Saturday for complicity in the alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, is expected to return to Indianapolis today from a trip to Tiffin, O., where he confiscated about four hundred pounds of dynamite stored at the home of James McNamara, father of Ortie McNamara, who with James W. McNamara, is on his way to Los Angeles in the custody of officers. More developments are expected here with the return of Burns. It is said some of the records taken from the officers of the union here in a raid Saturday night will have an important bearing on the cases of the men. It is said there are several receipts showing money had been paid to the men under arrest and that the dates of these receipts correspond to the dates of some of the larger explosions.

Burns refused to say today whether or not he expected to find more "plants" of dynamite than those already uncovered. The "depots" in which it is charged "wrecking crews" stored explosives to be used from time to time so far found are as follows:

Shed in the rear of the home of James McNamara, father of Ortie McNamara, Tiffin, O., four hundred pounds of dynamite. Storage department in basement of the building in Indianapolis in which are the offices of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, a hundred pounds of dynamite, also an exploding apparatus. Shed at the home of D. Jones, near this city, McNamara, twenty-five hundred pounds of dynamite and two quarts of nitroglycerin.

President Ryan of the Iron Workers' association, last night issued a statement condemning the police for having "railroaded" J. J. McNamara out of Indianapolis to Los Angeles and asking the public to withhold their judgment because he said evidence before had been "created by an agent of the enemies of union labor."

THE ARDMOREITE GETS BUSY.

Sunday's edition of the Ardmoreite was a hummer. Every one of the pages of the big edition was filled with a boost for the city and for Oklahoma. A number of that kind is not only most creditable for the management of the paper itself, but is worth much as a medium for disseminating information about the state in general and this section in particular.

Just now the naval academy at Annapolis is the object of an indignant attack from all sides, and deservedly so. It appears that a highly cultured young lady, the daughter of a Yale professor, was acting as governess in the family of an officer, being a special friend to his wife. She was taken to an academy ball by a midshipman and he was severely reprimanded because he had thus permitted the sacred portals of the institution to be invaded by a living lady who was working for a living.
Naturally the matter caused a great outburst of indignation and the secretary of the navy demanded a public apology from the commander of the academy. He declared himself ready to comply and made the whole matter worse by stating that the whole affair was due to a misunderstanding of the lady's true relation and position in the family.

It has been thought all along that the academy was for the purpose of bringing out the best qualities in a man, thereby fitting him to become an officer in the navy as well as a thorough gentleman. Is it possible that the school has developed into a training place for snobs? Has it reached a point where labor is looked upon as degrading and that a cultured young woman is to be looked down on because she makes her own way in the world? If such is the case, it is about time that the academy be radically reformed. If wealth and not merit is to be the criterion of the future officers of the navy, it would be better to abolish the school altogether and return to first principles. It will be a sad day for America when the European idea of class becomes dominant here.

Prior to Napoleon's time a man was not considered fit for service as a government officer unless he could prove that for at least four generations his family had been recognized as among the nobility. The secret of Napoleon's power lay in the fact that he never cared a rap about a man's ancestry. What can you do? was the only thing that ever concerned him when he needed a man for any particular place.

letic event of the year in Oklahoma, will be held at Norman Friday and nis preliminaries.

Friday evening, Teachers' Conference on topics of vital interest to be fun and wholesome entertainment for all who come.

Origin of "Kick the Bucket."

When we speak facetiously of some one for whom we have no reverence as having kicked the bucket we employ a phrase that would seem to be a piece of latter day slang, but, as a matter of fact, it dates back to Old England, when about the year 1725 one Bolsover hung himself to a beam while standing on the bottom of a bucket and then kicked the bucket away. Although at first used only in cases of suicides, it has been applied in the course of years to any death, without distinction.

Then there is the good, expressive phrase "skedaddle," meaning to depart hastily along the line of least resistance, and frequently applied to defaulters who "skedaddled" to Canada and other places promising pleasant refuge. This expression first appeared in the United States after the battle of Bull Run, when many soldiers "skedaddled," to the discomforts of their commanders, and for some time the word was supposed to be an invention of the soldier boys.
However, an antiquarian has recently found in an old version of the New Testament, printed in Ireland years ago this phrase: "For it is written I will smite the shepherd and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered." That certainly meant all scattered, and it is not unlikely that some son of Erin at that memorable flight made use of this expression which had stayed in his mind since childhood days in the old country, and that it was rapidly caught up his compatriots.—New York Tribune.

MEET AT McALESTER

McAlester, Ok., April 24.—The spring reunion of Scottish Rite Masons for the Valley of South McAlester, Orient of Indian Territory, began here today with the largest attendance since the building of the temple here. A class of 175 will begin in the morning, taking the degrees. In the class are many prominent men, among them Gov. Lee Cruce, Hon. W. H. Murray of Tillo-mango and Bishop Theodore Thurman of the Episcopal diocese of Eastern Oklahoma.

Mr. Murray was given the master's degree today and tonight, the second section being preceded by a lecture by Bishop Thurman on "Christianity and Masonry." Tonight a committee of four from the Dallas, Tex., lodge, headed by W. O. Rawlins, worshipful master, presented the silver trowel to the McAlester lodge. This trowel left the Justice Lodge in New York in 1905 and has been traveling ever since, reaching Mexico City, Victoria, B. C., and many states in the Union.

BOARD WILL REDUCE FACULTIES OF SCHOOLS

Oklahoma City, April 25.—Some interesting reports probably will be made to the state board of education by the committees which have made "gumshoe" visits to various state schools during the past week at times when they were not expected.
The committee visiting one school found 12 idle teachers during one period, and other conditions are understood not to have been altogether satisfactory. At least one school of each class was visited.

The board will be in session early this week, and one of the first things to be done at that session will be the election of presidents for the state normal schools. Members of the board have agreed, not in formal session but as individuals, that all of the new teachers elected must possess degrees from some institution of equally as high standing as the one in which they expect to teach, and must have done post-graduate work in their special lines.

It was also decided that there should be no parallel heads of departments. The policy of the board will be to select only such teachers as are considered absolutely necessary to run the institutions. If more are needed they can readily be secured, while if there are too many it is embarrassing to get rid of the surplus.

J. Alex Moore, president of the Girls' Industrial school at Chickasha, who was here Saturday, stated that he would recommend to the board that the school be run next year with not more than 60 per cent of the 23 employees now in that institution, unless the board should see fit to increase the number of departments. Mr. Moore has been in charge of the school only since January 19.

Notwithstanding the governor's instructions to the board that politics were not to be considered in selecting faculties, many of the applicants for positions seem to be depending solely on the influence of political friends. Some have gone so far as to get endorsements from practically every politician of prominence in the state, regardless of whether or not these people knew anything about their ability as teachers or not.

Five Negroes Sentenced to Hang.

Oklahoma City, April 24.—Wednesday, June 21, was today set for the hanging of the five negroes, John Henry Prather, James Holmes, Elijah Turner, Charles Posey and Bob Johnson, convicted for the murder of W. H. Archie, a plumber, on March 9. On that day, according to the order of the court, the sheriff will, between the hours of 10 p. m. and 3 a. m., take the five negroes to the county jail yard or some other private place and there hang them by the neck until they are dead.

The court in passing sentence allowed thirty days in which the prisoners may file their appeal to the criminal court of appeals. No arrangement has so far been made for an appeal.

After sentence, the five were taken back to the county jail and placed in the same cells which they occupied previous to sentence.

The court room was crowded with spectators when sentence was passed.
It was an orderly crowd. Not a word was heard as the sentences were read and when the court had finished and declared a ten minutes recess not a sound of approval or otherwise was made. The crowd filed orderly out of the court room, not even pausing in the hall to discuss the matter.

GOVERNMENT REGAINS MILLIONS OF ACRES

Portland, Ore., April 24.—Federal Judge Charles Wolverton today decided in favor of the government every contention made in the reply to the demurrer of the Southern Pacific company in the so-called O. & C. land grant cases.

If this decision is sustained by the United States supreme court land in Oregon valued at from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 will revert to the government and probably will be opened to settlers.

In 1866 congress granted to the Oregon Central railway company a tract through the heart of Oregon comprising what is now some of the richest agricultural and most beautiful timber land in the state.

The consideration for the grants was an agreement to construct a railroad north and south over what is now the Southern Pacific's Oregon division of the Shasta route.

The grant of 1866 contained no requirements that the lands included in it should be sold in any specific quantity nor at any specific price per acre.

In 1868 however, the company appeared before congress, petitioning for an extension of time in which to construct the road, and asking that it be granted 20,000 additional acres of land.

Congress extended the time as petitioned and granted the additional land, but apparently realizing its omission as to the manner of sale, it attempted to embody as part of the entire grant the condition that the lands be sold in 160-acre tracts to bona fide settlers at a consideration not to exceed $2.50 per acre.
Another extension of time was granted the road two years later under what is known as the grant of 1870.

During the seventies, the Oregon Central was succeeded by the Oregon & California Railroad company, and the road was built.

Until late in the eighties when the Southern Pacific absorbed the Oregon & California, the terms of the 1868 grant was adhered to. After that date however, the Southern Pacific appears to have elected to abandon the additional rights secured under the act of congress.

LIGHT VOTE CAST AT TODAY'S ELECTION

Very little interest has been taken by anybody in the election today. At 3 o'clock only 184 votes had been cast, divided as follows: First Ward 50; Second, 34; Third, 39; Fourth 61.
This indicates that only about one-fourth of the total vote of the town will be cast.

There has never been a state election in which so little interest has been taken locally as in the present instance. No one seemed worried much about the amendment or cared whether the objectionable section was repealed or retained in the constitution. Not only has there been no activity concerning it but even on the streets there has been little talk.
From paper reports it appears that the same condition has prevailed throughout the state.

It is the prevailing opinion that so far as Ada is concerned the amendment has carried by a heavy majority.

E. L. Steed states that there is a strong sentiment in the township around Tupelo for annexation to Pontotoc county. When he looked up the law on the matter while here yesterday, it appeared that it cannot be brought about. The law states that territory cannot be taken from one county and added to another when such change gives the county to which the territory is attached a greater area than the one from which it is taken. This seems to block the move for annexation.

TENDERS RESIGNATION

Sunday Rev. O. E. Fowler tendered his resignation as pastor of the North Ada Baptist church. He will move to western Texas about May 1 on account of the health of his little daughter who has been ill for a long time.

During the eighteen months of his pastorate the church has prospered greatly. More than sixty members have been added, the Sunday school B. Y. P. U. and women's societies have grown in numbers and interest the debt on the church paid and new pews put in. Hence his departure is deeply regretted both by his congregation and by the town generally. The best wishes of the community go with him and his family wherever their lot may be cast.

Brothers Meet After 45 Years.

Reno, Nev., April 25.—There was an affecting scene in the law office of Hugh Percy here today, when he and his brother, William Thomas Percy, clasped hands for the first time in forty-five years. The Percy brothers were reared on an Oklahoma farm. In 1866 Hugh, then 15 years old, and now one of the foremost lawyers in Reno, set out from the sparsely settled Territory to make his way in the west. William was 8 years old when he said goodbye to his brother. Going to Wyoming, Hugh engaged in fighting Indians under Gen. Cook, and later under Gen. Miles, battled against the Apaches in Arizona. Young Percy then became a cattleman, made a fortune and went to California. Two years ago William inserted an advertisement in a farm journal inquiring the whereabouts of Hugh. This led to their reunion today.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PURCELL, OKLAHOMA

REVIEW OF WORK DONE BY CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., April 25.—The democratic majority in the House of representatives are busy passing legislation, having already passed the bills for the direct election of senators, campaign publicity and the Canadian reciprocity agreement. This clearly convinces the country that they are capable of handling the government's affairs, which fact has never been questioned except by the republicans.

Gore's Good Roads Bill.

Senator Gore has introduced a bill in the Senate appropriating one million nine hundred thousand dollars half of the amount the state has contributed to the irrigation fund, for the construction of public highways. Oklahoma has contributed to the irrigation fund, for the construction of public highways. Oklahoma has contributed something like three million dollars to the irrigation fund and as the government officials claim that Oklahoma has no practical irrigation sites, the senator thinks it but just that Oklahoma should have at least a part of the amount she has paid in for the construction and maintenance of public highways.

Senate Democrats Reinforced.

The Democrats in the senate have some strong reinforcements from the election last November. With the election of Senator Reed, of Missouri; Kern of Indiana, O'Gorman of New York, Pomeroy of Ohio, Williams of Mississippi and Johnson of Maine, the democrats will be able to make a much stronger showing in the senate. All of these senators are giants intellectually and the democrats are real enthusiastic as to the prospects of securing good legislation during the extra session of congress.

Canadian Reciprocity Passes House.

The Canadian Reciprocity bill passed the house last Friday night by an overwhelming majority—265 to 89. Only 10 democrats voted against it while 78 republicans voted against Taft's pet measure, and only 67 voted in favor of it. It looks now as though the republicans will also split in the senate on the bill, which will lead to hopeless confusion and defeat of the republicans in the next presidential election. This breach is being further widened by the insurgents in the senate organizing to make a fight on the standpatters.

Gore Would Economize.

Senator Gore has introduced a bill to discontinue the printing of private pension bills until they are reported by the committee. Every pension bill that is introduced in either house is sent to the public printing office and several hundred copies printed. This measure provides for the discontinuance of this practice, which would result in a saving of over $100,000 every session of congress.

Guggenheims Get More Alaska Coal.

It seems that the Guggenheim-Morgan syndicate have at length gotten practically all they want in Alaska and a better thing than if Ballinger had approved the Cunningham claims. In October last the President opened to settlement 12,000 acres of land in Alaska which had been a part of the forest reserve. These lands were immediately filed upon by "stool pigeons." It so happens that the only possible way of getting to and from the coal fields which did not already belong to this syndicate lies across this 12,000 acres, so that the syndicate now controls absolutely the only means of getting to coal in Alaska.

EVIDENCE SECURED IN DYNAMITING CASE

Columbus, Ohio, April 24.—Detective W. J. Burns, who was in Columbus for an hour tonight en route to Indianapolis, divulged for the first time some of the evidence upon which he bases his charges that the McNamara brothers and O. E. McManigal were connected with the dynamite outrages in Los Angeles.

Burns said he had learned that J. W. McNamara was in Los Angeles at the time of the explosion, and in fact had been there for several days prior to the disaster.

"When J. W. McNamara reaches Los Angeles this week he will be identified as the man who purchased dynamite from the Giant Powder company in that city and who used the alias of J. B. Bryce at the time," said Burns. "Aside from saying that he fits the description of the man who purchased the dynamite, I am not privileged at this time to say what other facts we have on which to base our conclusions. But you may say that I am absolutely positive that he will be recognized as the purchaser of the dynamite."

Sticks Failed to Explode.

"Two sticks of dynamite placed under the Times building failed to explode. They were taken to the Giant Powder company and identified as pieces which were purchased by this man Bryce."

Burns said that with McNamara, when he bought the dynamite were David Caplan and M. A. Schmidt for whom detectives have been searching since the dynamiting occurred. These two men, Burns said, were anarchists and had no connection with the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

"We have learned that McNamara (J. W.) was in the pay of J. J. McNamara, secretary of the Iron Workers' Association, during the time that he was in Los Angeles and we also have proof that McManigal was in the pay of the secretary," continued Burns.

"Did McManigal have anything to do with the Times blow-up?"

"No. He is not charged with having had a hand in that. He was the man who blew up the Llewellyn Iron Works several weeks later."

Tracing of McNamara.

Burns said that McManigal worked single-handed. He had proof, he said, that McManigal was in Los Angeles at the time of the iron works explosion and that he had traced his movements from the time he left the Middle West until he landed in Los Angeles.

"He also will be identified by persons in Los Angeles, who can furnish proof that he was the man who did the job," said Burns.

"Have you any proof that McManigal was in touch with J. J. McNamara?"

"We have, and we have further proof that J. J. McNamara furnished the money necessary to pull off both of the Los Angeles jobs. There is no doubt in the world that we have the right people," said he.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY CURES BLOOD POISON

One reason why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison is that this medicine strengthens and builds up the stomach and digestive members while it is purifying the blood. A great many medicines used in treating Contagious Blood Poison are composed largely of mercury and potash, and are recommended to the sufferer because they are intended to dry up or remove the humiliating outward symptoms. But such treatment cannot cure the disease, and its continued use will often so weaken and diseased the stomach as to make a nervous wreck of the patient. And too, when these mineral medicines are left off the smoldering

I didn't find out that I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway, and fortunately for me the friend that I first consulted had had some experience with the disease, and advised me to take S. S. S., so I didn't fool with any doctors, but began at once the use of your medicine, taking it as directed. My friend told me to stick to it, and that was what I did, and got along splendidly from the very first, and my recovery was rapid. I took only about one dozen bottles, and am now as well as ever. When I began S. S. S. my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave, and now there is not a blotch or pimple on my body.

poison takes on new life and soon the old symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, brown, scaly spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., return with increased virulence. Then the disease makes more rapid headway because the weakened system offers less resistance to its ravages.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and it does so by purifying the blood and keeping the stomach and digestive members in perfect condition all the while by its fine tonic effects. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of recognized virtue as blood purifiers. It does not contain a particle of mineral and is therefore absolutely safe for any one. S. S. S. cures on the principle that not only must the poison be removed from the blood, but the circulation must also be enriched and vitalized with nourishing powers. S. S. S. is known everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers and a safe, certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment Book and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

ASSIST IN DEFENSE

Oklahoma City, April 25.—As the contribution of union labor in Oklahoma to the defense of J. J. McNamara, J. W. McNamara and Ortie McNamara indicted in Los Angeles for alleged complicity in the blow up of the Times building, J. Luther Langston, secretary of the Oklahoma State Federation of Labor, announced Monday night that the federation will send W. D. Cardwell, a local attorney to Los Angeles to join the legal talent of the defense. The decision according to Langston, was reached by the officers of the federation late Monday evening. Mr. Cardwell is a well known attorney here, who has represented union labor many times in the past, and is considered well versed in labor law. He will act as the representative of Oklahoma union labor as the local state federation believes that the men are innocent and that their prosecution is a huge conspiracy to place the general labor movement in disrepute.
